Description

Abicus is a captivating embodiment of minimalism and refinement, drawing inspiration from the clean geometry and elegance characteristic of Japanese design. The fixture features a vertical arrangement of tiered, disc-like forms, which are suspended in perfect sequence. The simplicity of the design marked by its clean, symmetrical lines offers a sense of balance and harmony that resonates throughout the space. This light not only serves as an illumination source but also as an artful representation of Japanese aesthetics, blending tradition with modern sophistication, making it a focal point of any interior.

Abicus is comprised of three multi-sized pieces that can be purchased individually or as a group. Each disc, crafted from a linen-like material, allows for a gentle diffusion of light, creating a soft and inviting glow. The brass adds a warm contrast culminating with a decorative weight at the bottom for stability and aesthetic. This fixture is internally lit proprietary LED components.
